VOTING BY WAY OF A POLL

Mr Lim Gunawan Hariyanto, in his capacity as Chairman of the meeting, had demanded a poll on all motions to be tabled at the meeting in accordance with the Company's Constitution and the Rule 730A of the Listing Manual of the Singapore Exchange Securities Trading Limited ("SGX-ST"). He had been appointed as proxy by shareholders and he would be voting in accordance with their instructions.

Finova BPO Pte Ltd and B.A.C.S. Private Limited were appointed as Scrutineer and Polling Agent, respectively. The validity of the proxies submitted by the Shareholders by the submission deadline of 10.30 a.m. on 21 April 2020 had been reviewed and the votes of all such valid proxies had been counted and verified. The tabulated poll results would be declared after the passing of the motions for the ordinary resolutions.

The following questions received from Securities Investors Association (Singapore) ("SIAS") and a shareholder, and the responses to the questions were shared at the meeting:-

Question 1

As noted in the Chairman's Message (page 4 of the annual report), volatility in palm prices has become the new norm, deviating from the widely accepted 10-year commodity price cycle. In 2019, prices fell to MYR 1,951 per metric tonne (MT) in the second quarter and jumped to MYR 2,500 per MT in December due to weaker than expected oil palm production that was affected by the dry and hot weather.

1.1 How is the group adapting its strategic investments and planting schedule in response to the new norm of high price volatility?

The Company's reply was:

"(1.1a) The Group has always been careful and selective when making strategic investment; acquiring only when good investment opportunities meet the Group's investment criteria including internal rate of return (IRR) of investment using conservative price estimate of future CPO prices and risk of acquisition. Equitably priced investment will generate returns that will be larger in the up cycle of the CPO price

(1.1b) High price volatility does not limit nor encourage planting. Well-planned planting strategy with best quality and cost management practices using high yielding seeds will result in positive returns."

1.2 What is the impact on the group's new planting due to the moratorium on the issuance of new permits for plantations?

The Company's reply was:

"The Presidential Instruction and regulations will limit the availability of new investment into greenfield across the industry, though there will be some investment opportunities into brownfield, which our group constantly pursues. That said, we have sufficient uncultivated land in our land bank to achieve our targeted planting of 1,000 hectares in 2020, 7,000 hectares came into maturity in 2019. We expect in the coming few years, revenue growth of BAL will come mainly from yield improvement as the average age of our plantation reaches peak yield."

Question 2

In the Operational highlights section (page 8; reproduced below), the company has provided the size and breakdown of its plantation area.

In addition, the company has disclosed that the weighted average age of the group's palm trees as of 1 January 2020 is 10.6 years.

Would management consider breaking down the age profile of its plantation according to Immature (~0-3 years), Young (~4-6 years), Mature/Prime (~7-18 years) and Old (>18 years)?

The Company's reply was:

"It is a common practice for the oil palm industry to disclose the weighted average age in total rather than breaking it down per age profile. The Company is aligned with industry practices."

Question 3

Dato' Lee Yeow Chor, a non-executive director, attended two out of the four board meetings held by the company in FY2019. The attendance of directors at board and board committee meetings can be found on page 40 of the annual report. Dato' Lee was first appointed to the board on 23 March 2012 and re-elected on 23 April 2018.

Were there extenuating circumstances that led Dato' Lee to miss two of the board meetings?

The Company's reply was:

"Yes, there were extenuating circumstances that had led to Dato' Lee to miss two of the Board meetings, both of which Dato' Lee had asked to be excused and had given his explanation. The nominating committee reviewed the board's performance and found Dato' Lee overall contribution not only to his attendance and participation at Board and Board Committees but also the time and efforts devoted to the Group's business and affairs to be valuable."

Question 4

What is the outlook for CPO for 2020 to 2021?

The Company's reply was:

"Most research houses expect CPO price to remain stable at around RM 2,400 – 2,500/MT. We also expect CPO supply and demand to be relatively stable as in 2019. In terms of demand, palm oil is a consumer staple product consumed in many forms including food (F&B outlets and homes) and non-food consumables like soap. CPO demand has not reduced based on data collected from past pandemics such as SARS and H1N1. Industry CPO supply is expected to be flattish, due to low fertilisation activities by medium to small growers last year and 3Q19 dryness, as well as low new planting in Malaysia/Indonesia since 2015/16."

Question 5

What are the operations at Indonesia being affected by COVID-19? How many facilities have been shut down? Can give a detailed briefing on this and how it impact the business?

The Company's reply was:

"The palm oil industry is classified as essential sector. As such, all estates and mills of the Group remain opened and in full operation in Indonesia. The Group has activated its business continuity plan for its Head Office team to work from home ("WFH"). As a whole, there is minimal impact to the business arising from Covid-19."

Question 6

What is the company going to do/implement in view of this crisis?

The Company's reply was:

"For Bumitama, besides WFH, we have crisis management centres at Head Office, and at the estates and mills where Covid-19 policy, safety and health protocol are developed and implemented for example internal quarantine periods for employees that travel within Indonesia. Overseas travel is temporarily halted except for expatriate staff opting to travel to their country of origin. There are continuous education of covid-19 for example safe distancing measures/ wearing of masks outside of their homes/ washing of hands/ staying healthy through the use of posters and online videos at our estates and mills and even villages near to our estates. Employees who display symptoms will be taken to the doctor – so far none of our staff have been tested positive for Covid-19.

During this period of global lockdown, we are also keeping human physical contact to the bare minimum. In terms of operations and logistics, we are also preparing for any supply chain disruptions, by securing alternative vendors should our existing vendors and counterparties face any disruptions due to Covid-19."

Question 7

On 15 April 2020, at 6:06pm, the company announced on SGXNet that it would be changing the proposed final dividend from $0.012 per ordinary share to $0.005 per ordinary share. However, the company had given shareholders instructions on 13 April on how to appoint the chairman as their proxy and to vote on their behalf in view of the COVID-19 precautionary measures. In addition, the new resolution falls short of the minimum notice period of 14 days to be given to shareholders. How does the company ensure that voting on the updated resolution 2 meets the requirements and is carried out in a fair way for minority shareholders?

The Company's reply was:

"We are in compliance with the "Guide on Best Practices for Shareholder Meetings of Listed Companies" prepared by Securities Investors Association (Singapore) and Singapore Institute of Directors, and supported by Singapore Exchange Regulation (the "Guide"), with acknowledgement to Rajah & Tann Singapore LLP for their help in the preparation of the Guide. The principles applicable to amendments to ordinary resolutions are less strict whereby a proposed amendment to a resolution can even be raised at the meeting before the resolution is to put to vote. However the proper approach is to propose a resolution to amend the resolution being discussed. A seconder should support the proposal. The Company will adhere to the Guide that the proposed revised final dividend will be proposed and seconded by at the forthcoming AGM.

The Company had on 16 September 2019, declared and paid an interim dividend of S$0.0038 per share to the shareholders. Subject to the approval of the shareholders of the proposed final dividend, the total dividend declared for the financial year ended 31 December 2019 of the Company will be S$0.0088 per share.

The Group had thought long and hard, and had taken note on the scale of the Covid-19 pandemic, the drastic measures and time taken by China to start to resume some resemblance of normalcy and the uncharted impact to economies around the world as well as any unforeseen circumstances that may arise therefrom, and arrived at the decision to scale back dividend so that the Group can conserve cash which is of utmost importance in such uncharted times but yet taking into consideration the importance of dividend to the shareholders."
